For Virginians: Government Matters

is a free online teacher resource highlighting active citizen involvement, the impact of state and local government on daily life, and how individuals shape their communities.

The website has four central features, closely aligned with Virginia Government SOLs:

Case Studies

on teaching with primary sources

Classroom Activities

focused on state and local government

Website Reviews

of valuable online resources

Teaching Sources

with introductions and essential questions

Developed in partnership with the Virginia Department of Education

Center for History and New Media
